To whom it might concern.

I wish to apply for the Technical Writer position at your company, currently being advertised on your company website. I've shared my CV in this repository for your consideration.

I am an undergraduate student at the Federal University of Goiás, I have advanced knowledge in computer programming, low level using C and C++ and high level using Python and TypeScript, and if given the opportunity I will be able to prove my skills worthy and myself a qualified candidate for this role.

In addition to my programming skills, I am also a polyglot with proficiency in the following languages: Portuguese (native), English (fluent) and French (intermediate); being able to properly understand and convey information clearly and effectively to individuals and groups. I am also a fast learner, able to research and absorb information rapidly as an autodidact.

I hope to get an opportunity to work at your company and increase my knowledge as it appeals directly to my passion for working with the foundations of software documentation and development. I assure you that I will put all my efforts along with my skills to make efficient use of any opportunity you might give me.

I look forward to an interview where we can have a detailed discussion on my suitability for the position. You can reach me anytime through my phone number or email.

Your time and consideration is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Ítalo Augusto Silva Brito Cadeu de Oliveira
